Homecoming Observed At Kinston

Kinston observed one of the biggest events of the year Friday, February 5th, with Homecoming at the school.

The Opp Band gave a thirty minute program on the lawn at the school prior to the parade and then led one of the biggest parades ever to be in Kinston.

During halftime of the ball game between Straughn and Kinston, Miss Linda Wood was crowned Miss Homecoming Queen of 1965 by E. C. Nevin, principal. Miss Wood was escorted by Jim Glass, her attendant, were Miss Claudine Bowdoin, escorted by Glen Henderson, and Miss Ruth Miller, escorted by Gerald Martin. Crown bearer was Master Jeffery Burkett and the flower girl was little Miss Mickey Purnell. The queen's heralds were Charles Patterson and Haskel Nevin.

The Alumni Banquet was held in the school cafeteria, George Gentry, Jr., president of the Alumni Association, presided with Mrs. Annette P. Smith, vice president, in charge of the program. The invocation was given by Max Patterson.

Music was furnished by Misses Susan Smith, Glenda Kimbro and Janice Dyess. Mrs. Bob Wise played a guitar and sang two songs.

Mrs. Beatrice B. Killingsworth compared the school today with the school which she graduated from in 1927, showing pictures of the building then. She concluded her speech by playing a record entitled

"The Little Brown House,"

Mr. A. C. Dunaway, H. B. Larkins and E. C. Nevin made short talks.

Doctor Jimmy Ward was elected president, Mrs. Larry Parker, vice president, and Mrs. Steve Hunka, secretary, of the association.

A delicious bar-be-que plate was served to the 175 attending the banquet.

At 4 o'clock an "ole timers" ball game was played between players of the teams of Mr. Haise and Mr. Larkins when they taught at Kinston.

S. T. Holmes Dies In Opp Hospital

Mr. S. T. Holmes who would have been 88 years young in March died Saturday night at 11:45 in an Opp hospital, having been rushed there early Saturday morning. Mr. Holmes had suffered a stroke two years ago and had been in declining health since. He was the oldest citizen of Kinston.

Funeral services were held in the school cafeteria, held Monday, February 8, at 3 P.M., at Beulah, with burial in the church cemetery, Reverend Jessie Evans and Reverend Harvey McWaters officiated.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Lillian Johnson, De Funtak Springs, Florida; Mrs. Lena Mae Campbell, Georgia; Misses Elizabeth and Vera Holmes, both of Kinston; four sons, Oliver N. Denton and Dayton Holmes, all of Kinston, and Willard E. Holmes, Dothan; six grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

The Bill of Rights was only 463 words.

HOMECOMING QUEEN - Miss Linda Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wood, reigned over Homecoming activities at Kinston, February 5th. Attendants to the Queen were Misses Claudine Bowdoin and Ruth Miller.

SPECIAL SCHOOL LEGISLATIVE SESSION

WALLACE URGES SPEEDY PASSAGE OF PROPOSALS

"In the final analysis, when we talk about public school education, we are talking about a present obligation to the future—we are talking about a challenge."

These were the words of Governor George C. Wallace as he challenged the Alabama Legislature to thrust Alabama into the forefront of education. The Governor spoke to a joint session of the lawmakers Tuesday night.

He said there is a "tendency to get bogged down in figures and percentages when talking about school programs." He reminded them, however, that "When we consider problems of public school education, we are talking about children—your children and mine. We are talking about our own hopes and aspirations, and in some measure, our determination to respond to their needs and fulfill our aspirations."

Governor Wallace said the results of a study financed by the 1959 legislature formed the basis for his educational platform in the race for Governor.

He told the lawmakers that appropriations for education were increased from about $150,000,000 in 1962 to $193,000,000 in the first two years of his administration. "We now propose appropriations to roughly $227,000,000 in the first year and up to $232,000,000 in the second year," he said.

HOMEMAKER NOTES

By Sara Hutchinson

You can't tell an egg by its shell. You have to know what's inside-and that takes pecking.

You can't do it. But Federal-State graders can-and do.

Their impartial ratings, which include candling for quality, take the guesswork out of buying eggs. You simply buy by their grade ratings. The grades are: Fresh Fancy or AA, A and B. And they are applied to eggs of all sizes, and both white and brown.

The best eggs have a small spread when broken. The white is thick and high; the yolk firm and high. These bear a U.S. label. Fresh or Grade AA label, smart homemakers are Fancy or Grade AA, looking for ways to use Grade A has a little more eggs in their menus.

WHAT'S IN A COLOR?

Lily white or suntan beige - an egg is an egg. The color of its shell makes no difference, say poultry specialists at the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Brown eggs and white eggs come in the same sizes and quality. And they have the same nutritional value.

Eggs need to be kept cool and covered. The cartons offer just the right protection.

If, however, you prefer to transfer them to the egg storage unit of your refrigerator, be sure to place them large and up. They'll keep better that way.

Beauty's Best Foot Forward!

Grooming your dog is one more way of teaching him obedience.

Whatever your age, eggs should be an important part of your diet. Besides tasting good, they are one of the most easily and completely digestible foods. And are loaded with protein, vitamins, minerals.

According to nutritionists at the U.S. Department of Agriculture, eggs compare in protein with foods like meat and milk. They also contain two of the B vitamins-thiamine and riboflavin-plus vitamins A and D. The yolks hold a rich store of iron, red blood cells as well as phosphorus and other minerals needed by the body.

Alabama Cattle

Go To Sea From

Mobile Port

The first full cargo of cattle ever to be shipped overseas through the Port of Mobile and the largest shipment ever to be exported from the U.S. left Mobile last week.

The cattle, 1,873 head of feeder steers, were loaded aboard the S.S. Salam, Thursday, February 4, at the Alabama State Dock, Mobile, Alabama, bound for Genoa, Italy.

The present movement of live cattle to Italy is due to the shortage and extremely high prices of beef in Italy and the present low U.S. price of beef.

Gardeners are reminded that in the long run, the best seed are the cheapest.

Coffee County Retired Teachers Hold Meeting In Bryan Home February 9

Bryan, May Bryan was hostess to the Coffee County Retired Teachers' Association at her home Wednesday afternoon, February 9.

The Florida State of this beautiful colonial home was the setting for the meeting. Arrangements of many varieties of camellias and early spring flowers added to the loveliness of the scene.

Mrs. Lena Grimes, president, conducted a business session and reported on the recent activities of the legislative committee. The association voted a cash contribution to the legislative committee.

Resolutions in memory to the late Mrs. Willie Clark, of Kinston, were read by Miss Zedie Rowe, Mrs. J. G. Seymour, of Bellville, became the bride of Stephen Claude Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Smith, January 1st in a service held in Rockford, Alabama.

The bride wore a beige and white linen suit with matching accessories. The bride attended Lake Weir High School.

Mrs. Hugh McGuire and children, Isabel and Stewart, of Montgomery, were last weekend guests of Mrs. Grace Waters and family.

Mrs. Smith formerly lived in Elba. Her grandparents are Mrs. Ben Jackson and the late Mr. Jackson and Mrs. Fate Seymour and the late Mr. Seymour.

Persons: Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Phelps and W.R. McDaniel, of New Brockton, had as their guests last week Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Smith of Jay, Florida; Mrs. Myrtle Moore, of Flomaton, Alabama; Mr. and Mrs. Pete Newsome, of Hartford, Alabama; their father, Mr. McDaniel, remains ill at his home.

Mrs. Joe Bruce visited her husband at Veterans' Hospital in Birmingham last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Flowers, of Wynne, Arkansas, visited Mr. and Mrs. J.W. English, Mr. and Mrs. Harris Winston, and other Elba relatives last week.

Miss Olive Carnley in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Doug Kendrick and their little daughter, Fleming, spent Wednesday and Thursday in Montgomery. On Thursday morning, Fleming was given minor eye surgery at Jackson Hospital. They returned home Thursday afternoon.

Miss Zedie Rowe and Mrs. T. B. Bryan visited Mr. and Mrs. Benny O'Neal in Andalusia Wednesday.

Wayne Jacobs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jacobs, recently flew to Elba, Turkey, where he is employed by Gary Tobacco Company. Wayne's assignment is for two years, and he is associated with the same business as Frazier Ringsdorf, son of Doctor and Mrs. W.M. Ringsdorf.

Wayne and Frazier are graduates of Elba High School, and both have attended colleges in Alabama.

J. Doug Kendrick represented Dorsey Trailers at a Training School for Truckers in Montgomery last week.

HOMEcoming OBSERVED AT KINSTON SCHOOL - Friday, February 5th was a big day at Kinston school. During halftime of the Staughn and Kinston ballgame, Miss Linda Wood was crowned "Miss Homecoming Queen of 1965". E.C. Nevin, principal, right of top photo, crowned the homecoming queen, Miss Wood was escorted by Jim Glass. Her attendants were Miss Claudene Bowdon, escorted by Glen Henderson, and Miss Ruth Miller, escorted by Gerald Martin. Crown bearer was Master Jeffrey Burkett and flower girl was little Miss Mickey Pummel. Queen's heralds were Charles Patterson and Haskel Nevin, all pictured in top photo.

Pictured at bottom is one of the outstanding floats participating in the parade, claimed to be one of the biggest parades ever presented by the Kinston school. Several beautiful floats were included in the parade as well as horses with youngsters carrying the American, Alabama flags. Dozens of boys and girls rode bicycles in the parade.

Prior to the parade a thirty minute program was given on the lawn of the school. The alumni banquet was held in the school cafeteria with the association president, George Gentry Jr., presiding, with Mrs. Annette P. Smith, vice-president, in charge of the program.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS If your family saved $600 last year, you're just about average. The most frequent financial assets were savings accounts and life insurance cash values.

To prevent holly from shedding, spray twigs with one per cent solution of naphthalene acetic acid. It makes the leaves stay firm even after twigs are dead and dry.

year of the next biennium," he said.

"This represents a total increase in four years of approximately $92,000-000. This surely will stand as one of the truly great achievements in the history of education in Alabama. You, as legislators, and you, the people of Alabama, have every right to feel a sense of pride in this achievement," said Governor Wallace.

Among the specifics he called for in the new program are:

- 1) An additional ten percent increase in teachers' salaries.
- 2) Employment of 500 additional classroom teachers the first year and 400 more in the second year.
- 3) An additional increase of 20 percent in appropriations for institutions of higher learning.
- 4) Increased teacher retirement pay.
- 5) Increased appropriations for the University of South Alabama.
- 6) Operational funds for the new trade schools and junior colleges.
- 7) Provide free textbooks through the first 12 grades.

The Governor gave a detailed description of his free textbook proposal.

in providing state owned textbooks we are only completing a job which began some thirty years ago. We are merely catching up with the States of Tennessee, Mississippi, Georgia, Florida and roughly three-fourths of the states in the nation. It is not socialism to provide public school education. Neither is it socialism for the state to provide teachers, classrooms, transportation, or school books.

"Persons who are now paying twenty or thirty dollars a year for textbooks for their children may continue to do so if they choose. However, if textbooks can be provided by the State at much less cost, then all will profit in the amount they are now spending for textbooks," Governor Wallace said.

The Governor assured the legislators that the entire educational package is sound. "The program can be financed now and in the future without additional taxation. It will not result in pro-ration. It is a program that reaches a new plateau, representing the maximum, prudent use of available funds for the purpose of launching and supporting a public school program that goes far toward achieving our goals."

Betsy is a cheerleader on the purple team for College Night.

He predicted that with current economic growth holding firm more than $450 million will be available for education in less than 10 years.

Speaking of education's importance to the future of the state's economy he said, "we must look to education to train individuals to cope with the commercial and economic fruits of technological and scientific advance. The economy of this state cannot prosper if the people neglect the educational system that sustains it."

The Governor touched briefly on his administration's accomplishments in the highway program, and of the $6.5 million going into the state treasury as a result of his ending the liquor agent system.

He urged speedy passage of his educational proposals, calling the entire matter "a challenge" to the legislature. "I respond to this challenge as I am sure you do in thinking: 'Show us the need—we shall strive to fill it,'" he said.

Spending

Spending habits of U.S. consumers are becoming more alike. Although differences in consumer spending are still evident between rural, rural non-farm and urban families and between family size groups, the trend toward more similar spending patterns is apparent.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

In planning to make curtains and draperies, estimate yardage at two to three times the width of the window for sheer fabrics. Heavier fabrics need only twice the width of the window.

When cooking apples, use only enough water to prevent them from sticking or scorching. Apples have a high natural water content and will become too soft and lose their form if too much water is used.

Valentine Party Honors Young People

An annual affair that is held at the First Baptist Church each year near Valentine honoring the Intermediate and Young People's Department, was held on Thursday evening, February 11. This year the party was in the form of a "Loah."

The "sweetheart" from these departments are selected every year. This year Page Rowe was selected queen and Bill Bruce chosen king on the basis of personality and loyalty to the church.

Those attending were greeted at the door, presented leis, and ushered into a room of polynesian setting. The decorations consisted of tropical fruits, tropical flowers, ferns, pool, nets, and tropical fish.

Everyone sat around the floor, approximately sixty-five attended.

Jack Brunson served as master-of-ceremonies and Kenneth Mooney was guest speaker.

Solos were presented by Page Rowe and Suzanne Prior. The group also enjoyed Hawaiian numbers presented by the "No-mads" - Ronnie Vaughan, Jimmy Martin, George Sanders, and James Lee.

Hawaiian music was played softly in the background during the entire festivity. At the close of Loah, the group sang "Aloha."

Farm NEWS

BY TOM CASADAY, CO. AGENT

J. R. Speed, Associate at the county agent's office, County Agent, attended the third annual All-Breed Barrow and Carcass Show at Auburn part of last week. Mr. Speed had this to say about the event: "I believe there was more interest shown in producing fast growing, top quality hogs than at any meeting I have attended in recent years."

I think that just about everybody in Coffee County is convinced that hogs offer real opportunities for profitable expansion in Coffee County. Taylor and Carlton Larkins in Elba last week about beef cattle. Both of these men are in the purebred business. Taylor is concentrating on polled herds and Larkins on Santa Gertrudis. Taylor has five bulls and Larkins has one bull that will be sold in the annual Performance Testing Bull Sale at Auburn March 26. Both of these men are doing outstanding jobs with their respective breeds. They are both on the Alabama Beef Cattle Improvement Association program.

We helped Jake Morrow last week with trucker meetings in New Hope, Pine Level, Zion Chapel, Damascus, and Kinston. Quite a bit of interest has already been shown in increasing pea production for the Elba market.

Coffee County folks who have plenty of land and labor can increase their volume of business and farm by checking into the possibilities of planting some peas. Complete information can be obtained at Morrow Gin and Peanut Company in Elba.

an expanded trucker program in Coffee County and especially pea production this year. Several people have already told him of their intentions to plant. However, to take care of the people in other areas of the county, the following stores are official sign-up places: Robert Stephens Store, Damascus; Elmer and James Bryan's Stores, Pine Level; Morrow Gin and Peanut Company, Elba; Roy Barlow's Store, Basin; Perry's Store, Perry; R. D. Dawkins Store, and the county agent's office in Enterprise.

Folks keep asking me about time and whether to put it down or not and when to put it down and so forth. My answer is that if you need it, anytime you can get it spread is the time to put it out. If you put it out in April, it won't do you as much good as it will in later years but it will do you some good. This land will certainly be in shape for maximum yields the following year.

W.H. Taylor of Elba called me the other day to remind me of the Polled Hereford sale which will be held in the new livestock barn at the Farm Center in Dothan. Thirty-two bulls and 25 females have been consigned. I was interested in learning that Taylor along with Johnnie B. Maddox of New Brockton is donating a purebred heifer each to the Haven, the home for alcoholics which is located near Dothan.

Roy L. Ellis, Chairman of the Coffee County ASCS Committee, New Brockton, reminded our class of farm management students the other night in Elba to check with the ASC Office on their cotton allotment. Ellis has this to say about the 1965 program: "Each farmer has a different allotment and to make sure that each individual farmer understands his position, it will be best to go into the office in New Brockton and check the records."

The Fairview, Damascus, Mt. Pleasant, New Hope, Kinston, and New Brockton clubs will meet this week.

Interest continues to grow in the 4-H, FFA, PMA, and the Wiregrass Substation. The Wiregrass Substation, the Early Runners are busy getting their calves ready for the big show and sale. The show will be small in number this year, but we believe the quality will be better than usual.

Make your plans now to attend. It will be held at the Enterprise Livestock Barn. In 1964 the Early Runners led the list of runner prizes at the Wiregrass Substation. The Early Runners are busy getting their calves ready for the big show and sale. The show will be small in number this year, but we believe the quality will be better than usual.

THE AUDIENCE IS ROLLING WITH LAUGHTER as the "Ilted love" Judge Ens Paul is ushered in by Mr. Elmer Taylor to the Womanless Wedding sponsored by the Elba Band Saturday night. There is some question of 'Who enjoyed it most' the audience or the members of the wedding party!

FFA Chapter Confers Degrees

This week of February 22, the birthday of George Washington, is designated as National Future Farmer of America Week. George Washington was first in many things, among which is the first "scientific farmer". It is out of deep respect and admiration for George Washington, the farmer in whose progressive ways they seek to follow, that Future Farmers annually observe their National FFA Week at the time of his birthday.

At its last regular meeting the local chapter conferred the Chapter Farmer degree upon twelve of its members. This is the highest degree that a chapter can award a member. All degrees in FFA are based upon activities and accomplishments of its members. Those receiving this degree are Billy Mallory, Jerome Blackmon, Johnny Foley, Donnie McCart, Billy Smith, Kenneth Barlow, Randall Hodge, Kenneth Baker, Mac Hodge, and unique prom.

Methodist Honor Two Teachers

On Thursday evening, February 25, a banquet will be held in the new Fellowship Hall of the Elba Methodist Church to honor Mrs. L.S. Rainer, Sr. and Mrs. Nell Cooper for their faithful service in the Children's Division of the church. Both of the ladies have recently retired from their teaching positions in the Children's Division.

Mrs. L. S. Rainer, Sr., began her work in the Children's Division almost forty years ago when her oldest son was three months old. She has served both as teacher and superintendent of the division. Mrs. Rainer has also been active in the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church, has served on the Official Board of the Church, and has been instrumental in directing many of the youth activities. She has three children who are also active in the work of the church.

Mrs. Nell Cooper was teacher and pianist in the Children's Division for almost fifty years. She has also been active in the W.S.C.S. Official Board, and for many years sang in the Church Choir. Mrs. Cooper has four children and fourteen grandchildren who are all members of the Elba Methodist Church and are active in the work of the church.

DEPARTMENT OF VETERAN AFFAIRS TO BE CLOSED WEEK

The county offices of the Department of Veterans Affairs, located in Elba and Enterprise, will be closed next week. Maxwell W. Brown, Veterans Service Officer for Coffee County, will be in Washington, D.C., attending the Rehabilitation Commission Meeting of the American Legion.

If an emergency should arise for anyone needing assistance from this office, the service officer in the Elba office should be contacted at the office on February 27.

Mr. Dean explained that this is being done for the convenience of farmers who find it difficult to contact the county office during the regular work week, or for any farmer desiring to contact the office on February 27.

ELBA BAND MEMBERS WIN ALL-STATE HONORS

Last Saturday, February 13, sixteen Elba Band members went to Troy to compete for All-State honors. According to Mr. Joe V. Summers, band director, the entire group proved to be very successful this year.

Each student was judged on his individual ability to perform a given number of musical studies. Also each was asked to read at first sight a musical selection and was scored according to accuracy. All the students from Elba did exceptionally well in their respective auditions. Five were selected as All-State Bandmen and five others given recognition as All-State Alternates, with a total of ten out of sixteen gaining All-State recognition.

Eddie Cooper, Janice Davis, Lawanna Hootch, Suzanne Prior, and Harvey Waters will go to the University of Alabama campus in Tuscaloosa and stay March 15, 16, 17. While there they will rehearse with their respective All-State Bands. These three days will be climaxed by a gigantic concert to be held in Foster Auditorium on the University campus. The alternates from the Elba band are Sandra Cain, first alternate; Janet Murphree, first alternate; Charlotte McCall, second alternate; and Sara Warr, first alternate.

This entire group of students should be applauded for their aggressive and musical talent in representing Elba so highly before to Elba High School, and for adding these awards to Elba, and to themselves.

Attending will be a representative from each county in Alabama along with all the State FFA officers. The group will be taken on sight-seeing tours of Birmingham, given a banquet in their honor, along with other entertaining and educational features as planned and conducted by the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce.

ELBA WESTSIDE BAPTIST PLAN REVIVAL SERVICES

The Westside Baptist Church, of Elba, will have Revival Services beginning Sunday, February 28th, and continue through Sunday, March 7th. There will be services at the regular time on Sunday with Sunday School at 9:45 and Training Union at 6:00. The Worship Services on Sunday will be at 11:00 and 7:00. The services on Monday through Saturday will be at 7:30 each evening.

The pastor of the church, Billy Bozeman, will do the preaching. Bill Buchanan of the Southside Baptist Church, of Dothan, will lead the singing and will be responsible for the special music in each service.
